

Thank your lucky stars

if you feel that way about it when you get good service from your tires, but there is a deeper and more understandable reason.

The tire that you and every other motorist undoubtedly want most is not the result of hit or miss efforts.

Some great factory has gone to the limit in giving you the best that human ingenuity can produce, and stakes its reputation on the result.

That's how Diamond Tires are built and the great factory behind them is the largest rubber factory in the world.

The horse-shoe was all right to nail over the barn-door, but for the garage four Diamond Tires on the wheels of your car constitute the best omen of good luck we know anything about.

THE UNION MISSION

To All Our Friends, Greetings, in Jesus' Name:

We are thankful in our hearts that the divine approval of God is still with us in our humble work. Our meetings are grand, and God's extended mercies and loving kindness is with the people, and His great heart of mercy is often touched by the confessions of the penitent, and we are made glad as we watch the penitent face change from distressing sadness and a burden of sin to a rejoicing gladness by the power of the holy spirit in forgiveness.

This is a hard, persecuted work.

But we are determined to win the race and gain the prize, and make heaven our eternal home. We are arranging for a Christmas tree for the poor and unfortunate children who are deprived of the many nice gifts on each Christmas morning, that the more fortunate children enjoy. On last Christmas we gave many presents to the poor, and fed 200 people at our tables, and we again thank the courteous people of our city and ask God's blessings on heart and hand. All this was collected by house-to-house solicitation, from 5c to $25. Mr. P. C. Dings of the Guaranty State bank has promised to accept donations for this work and cause. We have written several personal letters, asking for a donation, to be left with Mr. Dings or sent to Mrs. Wm. Fieldbinder, 114 E. street, southwest. Phone 991. We would be glad to have all to respond very liberally, as we wish to, and are planning to make the gifts profitable and useful, such as wearing apparel, and we wish to secure it as quickly as possible, that we might get them ready. We have organized a sewing committee to cut and make the small garments. If there are any ladies in our city who could make any garment or wish to prepare a box, or make any present, they may do so and label the gift or present, and send same to Mrs. Wm. Fieldbinder or call phone 991 and she will send for it. We have a nice Sunday school, and the children are learning wonderfully fast. We are also arranging and practicing a program which we are sure will please the children and be very entertaining to all Christmas Eve night.

We are thanking our friends in advance for their donations and also extending a welcome to our exercises on Christmas Eve night. Thanking you one and all, we are, respectfully,
THE UNION MISSION.

Superintendent of the work.

Home Celebration of Wonder Interest

The arrival of a baby in the household completely changes the entire aspect of the future. But in the meantime, during the anxious period of expectancy, there is a splendid remedy known as "Mother's Friend" that does wonders. It is for external use, relieves the pains of muscle expansion, soothes and quiets the nerves, extends its influence to the internal organs and removes to a great extent the tendency to worry and apprehension. It is a natural treatment, safe for the mother, has no drug effect whatsoever and for this reason must exert a most beneficial influence upon those functions directly connected with motherhood. In a very interesting book the subject is freely discussed and a copy will be mailed free to all expectant mothers by Bradfield Regulator Co., 406 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today of any drugstore. Use as directed and you will then know why mothers for nearly half a century have used and recommended this splendid aid to motherhood. Their letters are messages of cheer, that breathe comfort in every word.

SOMETHING ABOUT PEANUTS: METHOD OF MARKETING

Hugo, Okla., Nov. 27.—We have read with considerable interest what Mr. W. H. H. Keltner has to say on disposing of the peanut crop in your locality, in the issue of The Ardmoreite, of the 24th inst. We have had the same conditions to contend with down this way and are finding the proper solutions of same. This peanut production is a new industry, the acreage throughout the states is unprecedented in the history of peanut production, the manufacturers are facing a condition that never existed before. The growers are in the same fix, having produced a crop that they never have had any experience in preparing for marketing purposes on a large scale, and as a result both the factory people and producers are way "up in the air."

Our Chamber of Commerce adopted as one of its slogans this year diversification to the limit with the farmers, making the peanut production a leading feature, for the purpose of solving the feed problem, and encourage the producing and fattening of more live stock, as we had discovered that the cotton crop usually had gone to pay the feed bills of Choctaw county, being sent out for foreign feeds that could be produced within our own county, and the proposition of selling the peanuts on the open markets was a secondary consideration, and as a result of this unrelenting exploit, the feed problem has been settled right by our farmers and after this problem has been settled so well, yet our growers have a few thousand bushels to sell to the manufacturers, or hold for seed for next year's crop.

The problem that the growers who have the nuts to sell are up against is to put them in the proper marketing condition, in order to obtain the best prices from the commercial dealers and manufacturers. The growers must harvest them when perfectly matured, cure them perfectly, avoiding letting them become mouldy in curing, and they must sack them in good sacks as they are never handled in bulk. If your growers will follow these instructions, and advise the Denison factory that on a certain date they will deliver in Ardmore one, two or three cars, the buyer will be there and give them the market price. As to the factory proposition, they will come in time to your city and other cities, if this peanut industry is kept under way from year to year, and the factories now in operation fail to pay the proper prices.

F. W. MACK, Secretary
Hugo Chamber of Commerce.

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU DEATHLY SICK

Stop using dangerous drug before it salivates you! It's horrible!

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tonic tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH PLANS INTERESTING SURVEY

All agencies and conditions that are injurious to public health should be prevented, if possible, and removed if they have succeeded in establishing themselves. It is absurd for an individual or a community, day after day, to ignore the existence and presence of known causes of preventable disease,—and most disease is preventable,—as it would be for a parent to ignore the fact that a venomous snake frequents the garden where his children play. A slight effort at the right time affords protection which could not be secured at a later time, even with the utmost endeavor. A fire can be extinguished more easily at the moment it has begun running in the grass than it can an hour later when it has gained great headway.

These rather homely observations apply to matters of public health no less than to the common every-day experiences of life. The great difficulty is to impress the public with the importance of health as perhaps the country's greatest asset of natural wealth. Most persons are prone to procrastinate. The Arkansas Traveler's experience with the old fiddler is repeated daily in every community in Oklahoma — when the weather is fair, there is no discomfort, and when the rain begins falling it is too wet to repair the roof.

The state board of health contemplates a demonstration within the next few months of what is actually happening in certain communities year after year, without any united effort on the part of citizens to improve conditions that are detrimental to public health. This demonstration will take the form of a physical survey of hygienic and sanitary surroundings.

In its broadest aspect, this survey will embrace an entire rural township, and include a village as well as the farms. This township has not been chosen, but will be one of the average townships of the state. Drainage, water supply for household use, disposition of refuse, the existence of mosquito-breeding bodies of water, sources of contamination that produce the commoner infectious and contagious diseases,—and especially those surroundings that multiply the housed in countless numbers,—all these will be charted, in an effort to present to the public as nearly as possible an accurate and truthful picture of the preventable menace to public health, that exists in practically every community, not only in Oklahoma, but in practically every other state.

The results of such a survey should be of value to every community in the state. Sickness and disease are largely attributable to defective hygiene and sanitation. Sickness and disease are a constant and positive loss in dollars and cents—in cash—and their prevention means not only greater comfort and happiness, but increased earnings and the accumulation of greater wealth by the people.

There is no good reason why the people of Oklahoma should not invest in good health, just as they invest in land, life insurance, automobiles, school books, farm machinery and live stock.

An effort will be made to conduct this survey with the greatest accuracy. The working out of the many details will require considerable time. It is the intention to publish the results of this survey in a bulletin for free distribution to the public.
